Editor's Note

Dear Readers,

As I conclude my role as Editor in Chief for RMJ, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to our readers and authors. I hope the articles published in RMJ since 2019 till now have been informative and insightful.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank our editorial board members and peer reviewers for their valuable contributions and support. Their expertise and guidance have been instrumental in maintaining the high standards of our journal. I would also like to express my appreciation to the editorial assistants who work tirelessly behind the scenes to ensure the quality of the RMJ.
