

EDITORIAL

---

This fourth issue of Thai Journal of Obstetrics and Gynaecology (TJOG) contains many interesting articles. The special article in this issue is “Role of biomarkers in screening and diagnosis of ovarian cancer.”

We also have good news to inform members of Royal Thai College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists (RTCOCG), reviewers and authors of TJOG. TJOG received the National Journal Award from the 3rd TCI-Scopus-TRF Journal Awards on December 15, 2016. We would like to thank former Executive Board of RTCOCG, former editorial board of TJOG, Executive Board RTCOCG, editorial board of TJOG, members of RTCOCG, reviewers and authors for their kind support and contributions. We look forward to continuously raising the quality of the TJOG.

For the coming New Year 2017, we would like to extend our warmest wishes to RTCOCG members, reviewers, authors and families. We thank to all the authors, readers, reviewers, and editors for your contributions to TJOG this past year and look forward to receiving your valuable contributions in 2017.

Happy New Year 2017

Prof. Vorapong Phupong, M.D.
Editor in Chief