EDITORIAL

This second issue of Thai Journal of Obstetrics and Gynaecology (TJOG) 2017 contains many interesting articles. One special article is “Practical placental examination for obstetricians”. Editor in Chief and managing staff already attended the Thai Journal Citation Index meeting: “Final Program on Thailand University Consortium and Scopus Indexing Project” at Windsor Suites Hotel, Bangkok on April 28, 2017. Editorial Board of TJOG prepare journal for submission to be index in Scopus index this year. Thus, there are many changes of the journal during this time.

RTCOG Annual Meeting 2017 will be held during 17 – 20 October 2017 at Khao Yai Convention Center, Nakornraschasima, Thailand. The theme of this meeting is “Women’s Health Care Sustainability”. All RTCOG members are cordially invited to participate this scientific meeting. All RTCOG members who would like to present their researches please prepare the abstract and follow RTCOG website.

Residents who would like to publish their researches in TJOG should submit their works before October 1, 2017. Our editorial team and constructive reviewers will let them know the results before December 15, 2017.

Wish to see you at RTCOG Annual Meeting 2017 at Khao Yai Convention Center, Nakornraschasima, Thailand.
